

Rodeo Wine Round-Up: Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo™ International Wine Competition 2009 Results

On November 15th and 16th, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo™ Wine Competition Committee hosted its sixth annual International Wine Competition. Tasting a field of over 1800 entries, the judges awarded a total of 1080 medals: 24 double gold (a unanimous gold medal), 111 gold, 414 silver, and 531 bronze. 136 of those medal-winning wines also won class champion or reserve champion belt buckles. Three of those champion buckle-winning wines also won saddles and five won chaps. Two more saddles were awarded to the "Top All Around Winery" and the "Top Winery Outfit".

Champion buckles? Saddles and chaps? Wine and rodeo? The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo International Wine Competition is unique in that in addition to the standard medals, the Show awards Champion and Reserve Champion rodeo belt buckles to the top two wines (silver medal or above) in each class. The top Champion Buckle winners (those with either five gold votes or four-gold-votes-and-one-silver-vote) are then considered for eight of the Show's "top" awards. The big three - Grand Champion Best of Show, Reserve Grand Champion Best of Show, and Top Texas Wine - each earn Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo trophy saddles with the award engraved into the stirrup leathers. The next five - Top Red Wine, Top White Wine, Top Sweet Wine, and Top Sparkling Wine - each earn trophy chaps with the award won branded into the leg of the chap. Saddles are also awarded to the Top All Around Winery and the Top Winery Outfit. Top All Around Winery - think Top All Around Cowboy in traditional rodeo terms - recognizes the winery (one "label") that enters at least six wines with the highest entry-adjusted award point total. Top Winery Outfit (a company owning multiple wine brands - think of the best team of cowboys competing in a ranch rodeo) recognizes the "wine outfit" that entered a minimum of 18 wines from at least three wineries (all under that company's ownership) with the highest entry-adjusted award point total. As the Texas Department of Agriculture says - and any cowboy knows - a medal may look nice but it won't hold your pants up. And you can't ride a trophy into town. As we have come to find out, a lot of these grape growers and winemakers grew up in agriculture as members of 4H or FFA. They are proud of the buckles they win and they know the value of a real saddle.

Seventy-five judges - including retailers, wholesalers, suppliers, restaurateurs, press, and consumers from Houston and around the US - serving on 15 panels, blind-tasted through all the entries over the course of a heavy Saturday and an easier Sunday. Each of the five-member judging panels was composed with a balance of members from each group. If you live in or around Houston, it is highly likely that you know some Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo volunteers - there are over 21,000 of us. If you are a wine lover living in Texas, you either know or at least know of some of the judges. They include Dale Robertson (wine columnist for the Houston Chronicle), Glazer's Guy Stout and Pappa's Drew Hendricks (Texas' only Master Sommeliers), Sean Beck (sommelier at Back Street Café, Hugo's, and Trevesio), Russell Masraff (of Masraff's), Saree Mulhern (the sommelier at Marks), Justin Vann (a young sommelier at Vic & Anthony's), and Michael Leiser and Mark Bermann (Bailli and former Bailli respectively of the Chaîne de Rotisseurs in Houston). Houston restaurant legend Bill Edge - who was invited on to the wine competition committee to be a judge - serves as the captain of the glass washing crew. (They washed and dried over 11,000 glasses!)

I should note here that I am not a judge in this competition. I am the third-year-chairman of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Wine Competition Committee that holds the event. Competition Vice Chair Laura Rosenberger and I get to work with all of the over 200 volunteers - including the judges - involved in sorting, pouring, serving, tasting, scoring, and cleaning-up-after all these wines. It is a rare privilege.

So why should you care about any of this? For two reasons: the endorsements and the cause.

The endorsements offered by this competition are wine recommendations from panels of your peers. At least three members of each panel live and work in the Houston area. The medals and other awards these panels give represent an assurance that the wine reveals its quality across a range of preferred styles and tastes. If I can't taste a wine I am considering buying, I look for an endorsement in the form of a score or recommendation and tasting note from a critic whose palate closely matches with mine. On the other hand, if I am having a party or giving a gift to someone I don't know well, I find a panel endorsement more useful, as that recommendation or endorsement exceeds the taste preferences of any one person.

These winning wines are can't miss picks for entertaining.

(It is important to note that some excellent wines will not score well in panel tastings. These wines may offer idiosyncrasies that split a panel or character that appeals to some but not all of the judges. These wines will often receive a bronze or maybe a silver medal rather than a gold or double gold medal - but may be some of the wines that a particular person might enjoy most. A bronze or a silver award is in no way a "non-endorsement" or damning with faint praise; it often indicates a wine that appealed to a couple of judges more than it did to the rest.)

The cause is the best. The money raised by the Show's International Wine Competition and its associated events - the Rodeo UnCorked Round-Up & Best Bites Competition (Sunday February 8th, 2009 at Reliant Center) and the Champion Wine Auction & Dinner (Saturday March 7th, 2009) - goes to the bottom line of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, a Section 501 (c) (3) charitable organization committed to benefiting youth, supporting education, and facilitating better agricultural practices through exhibitions and presentation. Since its beginning in 1932, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has contributed more than $220 million in scholarships, research, endowments, calf scramble participants, and other educational and youth programs. The awards funded by the 2008 show will total approximately 16 million dollars. For more information on the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, visit www.hlsr.com.

Remember, the panel endorsement with a gold or double gold medal, or a Champion or Reserve Champion buckle indicates a wine that will appeal to most all wine drinkers.

Here is a list of some of the top winners for this - the 2009 - show year. The complete list is available on our website, www.specsonline.com. On the left hand side of our webpage, under Highlights, click on Wine Features and you'll be able to download the complete pdf file.
